

Voice Coaching for Teachers

Our Voice Coaching for Teachers is designed to help you make the most of your voice in the classroom or lecture theatre – to ensure maximum student engagement.

"...brilliant session last night...really valuable advice, so entertaining and relaxed. Feedback from staff has been very positive indeed."

Manchester High School for Girls

The importance of how you use your voice as a teacher cannot be overestimated. Your voice-use influences the meaning of what you say by almost 50%.

We will help you maximise your voice impact and ensure your vocal delivery is clear and engaging to listen to.

As a teacher your voice is your main working tool. A full teaching day will challenge your voice more than most actors' voices are challenged so we help you understand how your voice works and how to use your voice safely, reducing voice problems related to strain and over-use.

Our Voice Coaching for Teachers can include:

- Helping you understand your voice, how to use it and look after it
- Delivering with greater flexibility to enhance interest and expression
- Ensuring clarity, pace, tone and variety for learner engagement
- Breathing and postural advice for optimum voice presentation
- How to project without shouting and causing strain
- Ways to improve the quality and resonance of your speaking voice
- Tips for speaking in different environments to different audiences
- Advice and coaching to tackle individual issues
- Group workshops or/and individual sessions to suit

How it Works

All our work is designed to suit what you would like to get out of the training. We can deliver on your premises anywhere in the UK and are happy to work around your timetable with after-school workshops, inset days or 1-1 coaching in free periods.

Our workshop presentation for sixth formers "Brand Yourself Successful" always goes down well as does our "Successful Interview Presentation".

Our Approach

Our approach is primarily a 'get-up-and-do' practical one, focussing on the 'how-to' to give you tangible ideas to put into practise. Although we do appreciate at the end of a long day some teachers may like to sit out and watch others participating!
